Advantages

The Forex Market's Huge

Forex is the world's most traded market with over $7.5 trillion* being traded every day. To put it in perspective, the daily average volume for the S&P 500 is only $553 billion (2.27% of the size of forex)

Currencies Come In Pairs

You're always trading one currency against another, such as the US dollar against the Canadian dollar (USD/CAD). This is called a forex pair.

You've Probably Already Traded FX

When you travel to another country, you usually exchange your money into the foreign currency to spend money there. Sometimes, whatever you don't end up spending you'll convert back. This is forex.

There Are Always Potential Opportunities

Forex is an exceptionally liquid market, and it's reacting all the time. This makes it especially attractive to day traders looking for short-term wins.
